Happy Fourth of July!

America is celebrating her 236th birthday! Our unprecedented freedom was the result of specific ideas, many of which were drawn directly from the Bible. In fact, at the 150th anniversary celebration of the Declaration of Independence, President Calvin Coolidge affirmed;

No one can examine this record and escape the conclusion that in the great outline of its principles the Declaration was the result of the religious teachings of the preceding period. . . . They are found in the texts, the sermons, and the writings of the early colonial clergy who were earnestly undertaking to instruct their congregations in the great mystery of how to live. . . . Placing every man on a plane where he acknowledged no superiors, where no one possessed any right to rule over him, he must inevitably choose his own rulers through a system of self-government.¹

On the 200th anniversary, President Gerald Ford also affirmed its Biblical roots:

*Our Bicentennial is the happy birthday of all fifty States, a commonwealth, and self-governing territories. It is not just a celebration for the original Thirteen Colonies. . . . The earliest English settlers carried the Bible and Blackstone's Commentary. . . . [and] American families in prairie schooners like these took with them on the overland trails the principles of equality and the God-given rights of the Declaration of Independence.*²

As we celebrate our 236th birthday, let's make sure we preserve our memory of these unique governing principles. Here are three simple things you and your family can do:

1. Read the Declaration of Independence. It is both a pleasurable and a rewarding experience that should be enjoyed by every citizen. The Declaration is a deep, rich document, giving the twenty-seven reasons that America was birthed, and also setting forth in its first 155 words the six immutable principles of American government – the six principles on which the Founders later erected the Constitution of the United States – the six principles that still produce American Exceptionalism today.
2. Learn something new about those who wrote the Declaration. Look at the names of the fifty-six signers; find one you don't know – perhaps one you've never heard of before, and look him up and read a short bio about him (perhaps from sites such as Colonial Hall) or get a copy of Lives of the Signers, so that you can have a short bio about each one of the signers. In short, rediscover a new Founder.
3. John Adams said that Independence Day “ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance by solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires, and illuminations from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward forevermore.” So enjoy the fireworks and parades and celebration – but also make sure to honor and thank God – make it a day celebrated “with solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty.”³

Happy Birthday America! May God continue to shed His grace on Thee!

Be Bold, Be Courageous

Now when [the religious leaders] saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were uneducated and untrained men, they marveled. And they realized that they had been with Jesus. Acts 4:13

Open Doors, a ministry to the persecuted Church worldwide, says that on average every month 255 Christians are killed, 104 are abducted, 180 Christian women are raped, harassed, or forced into marriage, 66 churches are attacked, and 160 Christians are imprisoned without trial.¹

RECOMMENDED READING

1 Peter 2:19-23

How is it that those who persecute Christians know whom to target? It's because the Christians are living lives that testify to their faith in Jesus Christ. They are not afraid of persecution. Instead, they manifest courage and boldness in their walk with the Lord. When they are persecuted, they do what Jesus did: "[He] committed Himself to Him who judges righteously" (1 Peter 2:23). Peter and John, in first-century Jerusalem, did the same thing. When persecuted by the religious leaders, they stood firm. It was their boldness and courage that caused the leaders to "marvel" and recognize their connection to Jesus.

In faith and practice, always imitate Jesus—especially when your faith is opposed by others.

Turning Point

Persecution is like the goldsmith's hallmark on real silver and gold; it is one of the marks of a converted man.
